

Symposium The myth today

Acompanying Event for the Music Theater Dede Korkut

08.02.2014, 10-15 Uhr

Festspielhaus Hellerau, Nancy-Spero-Saal

The encounter of specialists in history, theater and music allows insights in the most important myth of the Turkic people and in the music of central asia. The Impressions are linked to the cultural, political and social presence of the tremendous landscape reaching from the Caspian Sea to China.

10:00 am Salution

10:05 am Prof. Dr. Hendrik Boeschoten, Turkologist, Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz, Translator of Dede Korkut

An introduction to the region and the myth

10:50 am break

11:15 am Frank Aurich, Head of Department – Collections, Saxon State and University Library Dresden (SLUB)

Dede Korkut and other Dresden-based treasures of world culture on the internet

11:45 am Holger Kuhla, Dramaturge Maxim Gorki Theater

The one-eyed in the theatre

0:30 pm lunch break

1:30 pm Markus Rindt, Artistic Director of the Dresdner Sinfoniker

An excursion to the music of Central Asia and the South Caucasus

2:15 pm Round Table with the speakers moderated by Dr. Martina Taubenberger